Our office is located at Henley House just off Carmarthen Road in Fforestfach, if approaching from Swansea City Centre then you need to take a left at the American Golf traffic lights off Carmarthen Road and turn onto the Kingsway, then take your second left onto the Queensway Industrial Park, drive past Mister Matic the Jaguar Service Centre on your left and 100 yards further on you will see Henley House. Please use the visitor's car park provided at the rear of property.

If approaching from the M4 junction 47 then take the second exit at the roundabout on to the A483 then follow this road down until you reach another roundabout, then take the left turning remaining on the A483, once you are on this road you will pass a set of traffic lights and Tesco will be on your right hand side then head straight through the next set of traffic lights. If you continue along this road then you will come to another set of lights where there will be a Petrol Station on your right, turn right at these lights, and head straight through the next set of lights and onto the Kingsway, then take your first left into the Queensway drive past Mister Matic Jaguar Service Centre then continue for another 100 yards and you will see signs for Henley House. Please use the visitor's car park at the rear of the property, and then use the main front entrance, take the stairs on your right hand side and then turn right at the top of the stairs, follow the corridor for 20 metres until you turn right again and we are the second suite on the left.

If you intend to use public transport to find us then the nearest train station is Swansea.
